pedlers and fakers out of the building at 26 Broadway. When asked about the various persons who had offices in the building, he whispered to Lawyer Rowe and then spoke up.

"I decline to answer by advice of counsel," said he bravely.

Q. Who is your lawyer? A. Mr. Rowe, Q. When did you employ him? A. I decline to answer.

Q. How long have you been at 26 Broadway? A. I decline to answer. "You seem to be getting the habit," said the Attorney-General. Then Commissioner Sanborn took a hand. "Please ask the witness if he has been advised not to an-swar," said he to Mr. Hadley. "This looks me like a preconcerted arrangement and want it so to appear on the records." Mr. Hadley fired question after question at the witness concerning his employment, his pay, whom he had consulted before going on the stand and where he got his instructions. He dealined to answer them "If by any possibility you have any information you can freely give," said Mr. Hadley, "I would like to hear it."

"I decline to answer by advice of counsel," said Kearney amid roars of laughter.

Q. Were you told that you would get a raise in salary if you did as you were told to do on the witness stand? A. I decline to answer. Howard Page of the foreign department of the Standard Oil Company at 26 Broadway was put through a severe examination by Mr. Hadley concerning his connection with the circulation of a typewritter state-ment reflecting on the integrity of A. V. Jockel, a former bookkeeper of the Stand-ard who was a voluntary witness for the State of Missouri

State of Missouri.

Mr. Page denied that he had personally circulated the document, although he admitted that he had not sought a correction of the story to that effect which was printed in all the newspapers of the city. He finally said that he had telephoned to his secretary and that that functionary had secured the information from the American Surety Company. The statement was circulated by Mr. Elliott, one of the Standard Oil attorneys, he said.

culated by Mr. Elliott, one of the standard Oil attorneys, he said.

"Is it a part of your business to circulate slanderous reports about former employees of the Standard Oil Company?" asked Mr. Hadley.

"It wasn't slanderous," protested the witness. Jockel then went on the stand and denied the main charge in the statement. He admitted he had been arrested for misappropriating a small sum from the ment. He admitted he had been arrested for misappropriating a small sum from the National Conduit Company, but denied that any one had ever paid money to settle the matter. He said that the charge was never pressed against him and that the case was eventually dropped.

After Director Bedford had declined to a set the control of the company to the company the control of the control of the company that the company the company the company that the company

After Director Bedford had declined to give any information about the ownership of the stock of the various respondents, H. C. Hardcastle, a former employee of the Standard Oil Compa. 19, was called for cross-examination. The witness had testified that while he was working in the Albany office of the trust he was transferred to Cleveland to fix up the books of the Republic Oil Company after the method employed in the Eastern offices of the trust. He was obliged, he said, when he returned

He was obliged, he said, when he returned to the Albany office to give up some correspondence he had in his possession showing the connection between 26 Broadway and the Republic company on the pain of not getting a raise in salary. He was told, he said, that he might stay there ten years and not get a better job unless he gave the letters up to Walter Jennings of the Standard.

Hardcastle made a good witness and Attorney Hageman failed to shake his testimony. The former accountant admitted that he had come to this country from England, where he was born, under the name of H. C. Hulton. Mr. Hageman did not press the matter, but when he was through with the witness Mr. Hadley jumped to his feat.

to his feet.

"How old were you when you came to this country?" he asked. "About 15," re-Q. Why did you assume another name? A. I had run away from home and did not want my parents to find me. Q. Was there any charge of any kind or ature against you? A. Absolutely none. Q. Is that all there is to the story that this great corporation has brought up to embarrass you? A. That is all. Why, I told the mana-ger of the Albany office all about it. He wrote my people in England and found out that

Wade Hampton admitted after considerable questioning that he had an office in Room 800 at 28 Broadway and that he had been there about ten years. He said he was the general auditor of accounts. for what company or companies he declined to say.

"What accounts do you audit?" asked Mr. Hadley. Oil accounts," replied the witness sol-

He declined to tell whether he audited He declined to tell whether he addited the accounts of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, the Standard Oil Company of Ohio and a dozen other concerns, but he finally admitted that the accounts of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana were under his "general supervision." When did you quit with the W terspierce Company? Pierce Company?"
"I never began."
The witness talked so fast that the typewriter could not get down all he said.

"I am satisfied to have your testimony taken in shorthand if it will be of any convenience to you," said Mr. Hadley.

"But we are not satisfied," came in chorus from the table at which the Standard Oil attorneys sat.

DECIDES AGAINST DECATUR. Court-Martial Refuses to Drop Two of the Hazing Specifications.

Annapolis, Md., Jan. 9.-For the second time Midshipman Stephen Decatur, Jr., of Portsmouth, N. H., faced this morning a court-martial on the charge of hazing. In addition to the charge of active hazing he faces a charge of "encouraging or countenancing hazing." There was a motion to strike out the first two specifications, which charge him with sending foolish messages by under classmen, which led to their being hazed, and with compelling under class men to bring his meals to him, inasmuch as they did not constitute hazing within the meaning of the law. The room was cleared and after a long iltation the court denied the motion decision on this point will make it very difficult for Decatur to escape con-viction on the second specification unless he is prepared to deny its allegations. It is also a practical announcement of a verdict of guilty in the case of Midshipman Petter-son B. Marzoni, whose trial was concluded yesterday. Marzoni admitted that he had told "plebes" to bring articles of food to his room, but claimed that he had not compelled them to do so. This constitutes hazing, however, it would appear, by the court's action on the motion in Decatur's

CHRISTODORA HOUSE MEETING. Reports of a Successful Year Read-New Annex for Boys.

The annual meeting of Christodora House was held yesterday afternoon at the of the president of the organization, Mrs. Arthur Curtiss James, 92 Park avenue. It was announced at the business meeting that the last year had been the most successful in the history of the organization. An annex for boys has been established at Ninth street and Avenue B, adjoining the original house for girls, and the work has been much enlarged. the work has been much enlarged.

Christodora House cares for the welfare of the children of its neighborhood, regardless of nationality or creed. Miss C. I.
MacColl, the resident headworker, gave an interesting talk on the scope of the work and the needs of the children. Ten thousand dollars is needed to help pay for the annex and the extended work among the boys.

The following officers were elected:
President, Mrs. Arthur Curtiss James;
secretary, Miss H. T. Righter; treasurer, William L. Sexton.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quintne Tablets. Drug.

HE wrong way often seems the only way to the man in charge. Perhaps the outside view of a trained systemizer would develop more efficient and more economical methods in many of your departments.

If you are interested, but too busy to see us, we will be glad to mail you details of our plan. The Adams Company, New York.

1133 Broadway, DIVORCE ON FOURTH TRIAL

MRS. J. S. BEATTY AT LAST FREED FROM HER HUSBAND.

Three Supreme Court Justices Agreed That She Was Justified in Her Action, but Thought the Evidence Insufficient More Than Enough Evidence Finally.

After three attempts before three other Supreme Court Justices, Georgia S. Beatty has succeeded in convincing a fourth Justice that she is entitled to a divorce from James S. Beatty of Wilkesbarre. Beatty had told her lawyer that he didn't care how soon she got the divorce, as he had no intention of opposing the action.

The couple were married on December 31, 1889, and have one child, a fourteen-year-old boy. Mrs. Beatty is the daughter of James Hyde Starr. Her suit came to trial before Justice Barrett in February, 1904, and it was proved that Beatty had put up at the Hotel Navarre with two women, registering one as his wife and the other as Mrs. C-Kellert of Terre Haute. Neither of the women was Mrs. Beatty, but as no detective work had been done in the hotel Justice Barrett declined to grant a decree. He consented, however, to let the case go over, instead of dismissing it then and there.

Three months later the suit came up for trial again before Justice Leventritt, and Wilbur F. Earp appeared as counsel for Mrs. Beatty. Earp had gone to Wilkes-barre to see Beatty, in the hope of getting evidence by admissions from the husband. Beatty said, according to the lawyer:

"My attitude is one of entire indifference. It makes absolutely no difference to me whether a divorce is granted or not. My wife has passed out of my life entirely and I go around as I please, without regard "You must want to get married." Earp said to Beatty, "and a divorce would thus be a benefit to you."

"It would be no benefit to me at all." Beatty replied, "because I have an arrangement with a married woman in Philadelphia and if I was free it would do me no good, as I could not marry her and she could not marry me." "But that is not fair to your wife," said the lawyer. "Here are you, living in another State, and keeping her tied to you because you won't give us the information we require to convince the courts." "Well," answered Beatty, "I'm not as bad as you think. Why don't she go ahead and get the divorce? I'm not stopping her."

Earp explained that Justice Barrett was not satisfied with the evidence relating to the Hotel Navarre episode. Beatty laughed heartily and replied:

heartily and replied:

"Well, you'll never prove anything by me.
I will never give up the names of the women, because they were women whose names I would not have brought out for anything.
You absolutely can't prove anything, for I won't reveal their identity."

Justice Leventritt took the same view as Justice Barrett and dismissed the suit, saying that while the allegations of the complaint appeared to be true he would not decree a diyorce on admissions by the de-decree a divorce on admissions by the de-Lawyer Earp had the case reopened a month later and went over it again before Justice Gildersleeve. He told some more of his conversation with Beatty relating to the good time which Beatty said he had had with the two women at Atlantic City, Coney Island and elsewhere. But Justice Gilder-sleeve shook his bead and referred the suit to Justice Barrett, who said that he would not disturb the findings of Justice Leven-missing the complaint, but it was never prosecuted. Beatty was interviewed again by the lawyer. So it was resolved to watch him on his periodical visits to New York, and before long Mrs. Beatty's lawyer was in possession of ample evidence to warrant another action. The action in this county was discontinued and the second suit brought in Kings county, where without trouble a decree was obtained.

RITCHIE DIES SUDDENLY.

Former Chancellor of the Exchequer Had and it was adopted. Just Been Raised to the Peerage.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Jan. 9.-Charles Thomson Ritchie, who was Chancellor of the Exchequer in the Balfour Cabinet and who was raised to the peerage on the retirement of that Ministry the other day, died to-day from the effects of a stroke of paralysis which he suffered last night.

Lord Ritchie was born in Dundee, Scotland, in 1838. He was a member of Parlia-ment for London districts from 1874 to 1892. Then he was defeated. In 1895 he was Then he was deteated. In 1895 he was elected from Croydon and retained his seat till the dissolution of Parliament. He was at different times Secretary for the Admiralty, president of the Local Government Board. Home Secretary and, in 1902 and 1903, Chancellor of the Exchequer. He was a conservative in politics. a conservative in politics.

KILLING ARMENIANS.

Massacre by Tatars From Elizabethpol -Tifits Bombarded.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 9 .- The situation at Tiflis, the capital of Russian Transcaucasia, is again very serious. Russian artillery have bombarded the city. The rebels met a Cossack attack with bombs. Complete anarchy prevails at Elizabeth-pol, a city of about 17,000 population, ninety miles southeast of Tillis. There have been massacres of Armenians by the

NO CHINESE GUARD WANTED.

Legations Deny Request to Place Native Troops at Pekin Station.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN PEKIN, Jan. 9 .- The Waiwupu (Board of Foreign Affairs) has expressed a desire to place a guard of native police, on special occasions, at the city wall near the railway station, which is just outside the wall. The foreign ministers have replied that the German and American soldiers who are regularly stationed there afford all the guard that is needed.

Augustus Saint Gaudens Honored.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.
LONDON, Jan. 9.—The Royal Academy to-day elected Joseph Israels, the Dutch painter, and Augustus Saint Gaudens, the American sculptor, honorary foreign acad-

20 Hurt in Paris Cable Car Smash.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. PARIS, Jan. 9 .- The grip of a cable car broke to-day while the car was descending a hill between the Place de la République and the Rue de Belleville. Twenty persons were injured. Three of them are in a

Dr. Steger Dead. Dr. Robert W. Steger, who took poison at the Audubon, Thirty-ninth street and Broadway, on Monday night, died in Belle-vue Hospital yesterday forenoon.

SHARP DEBATE ON MOROCCO.

SENATOR BACON SAYS WE'VE NO PART IN EUROPE'S QUARREL.

Defeated in Move for Open Discussion of His Resolution to Limit Our Delegates' Participation in the Algeeiras Conference-Senate Takes Unusual Step

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9-By a strict party vote the Senate to-day determined upon the unusual course of closing its doors while it discussed a matter that did not concern a treaty or a nomination to office.

The debate which led up to this discussion was also held in camera. Senator Bacon's resolution presented in open session yesterday, designed to limit the authority of the delegates from the United States to the Morocco conference, was the subject of the secret discussion. Nearly three hours was consumed in its consideration, and the outcome was the determination reached by the Republican majority, with the Democrats dissenting, to exclude the public and the press from the sessions at which Mr. Bacon's proposal would be discussed.

Senator Lodge, who had given notice yesterday that in future he would object to a discussion of foreign relations in the open Senate, made the motion that the doors be closed. He did so while Mr. Bacon was making an address concerning the resolu-

"If there is to be a motion to refer the resolution to the Committee on Foreign Relations," said Mr. Lodge, "I shall make no objection to that proceeding but if it is to be discussed. I shall move that the doors be closed. Mr. Bacon came back at his Republican colleague with the retort that there was no treaty before the Senate, and declined to yield the floor, but the presiding officer held that it was not necessary to have a vote on the question of going into secret session, and ordered the doors closed.

The debate over the matter of talking about Morocco with or without the presence of witnesses was carried on strenuously from shortly after 2 until 5 o'clock this afternoon. The principal speeches were made by Senators Bacon and Morgan, both Democrats, in favor of opening the doors, and by Senators Spooner and Lodge, Republicans, against that proposal. The debate took a wide range.

Mr. Bacon discussed the merits of his resolution to limit the participation of the American delegates in the Algeciras conference to consideration of the commercial relations with the United States, leaving the diplomatic and political questions that have involved European Powers to the adjustment of delegates from these coun-

Mr. Bacon made a long and carnest speech, in which he pointed out the diplomatic embarrassments that might follow the interference of the American delegates in the political questions involved. He held that no matter what view the American delegates might take of these questions, or what instructions might be issued to them relating to their attitude toward these questions, their participation would lead to bad feeling between the United States and one of the great Powers of Europe in the present strained condition of affairs. Mr. Bacon contended that the United States had no part in the internal political quarrels of Europe and that she should avoid them. He made a strong plea for an open discussion.

The main speech in opposition was by Mr. Spooner, who said the invitation to appoint delegates to the conference had been sent to the President, and that the appointment of delegates and their instructions were matters of purely executive concern. There had been some complaint recently that the Executive Department of the Government had been encroaching upon the fringement of executive functions. Mr. Lodge agreed with Mr. Spooner.

Mr. Morgan made a short speech advocating Mr. Bacon's resolution and an open debate. He announced he would speak more at length on the Bacon resolution later. Other Senators spoke briefly, the debate proceeding strictly on party lines.

At the conclusion of the discussion a vote was taken on Mr. Lodge's motion to consider the Bacon resolution behind closed doors. All the Republicans voted for it

At the State Department it was stated most emphatically to-day that this Government is not committed on the issues which will be discussed by the Moroccan conference, and that neither France nor Germany can with any degree of certainty count upon American support.

The instructions to the members of the American mission, Mr. White, the Ambassador to Italy, and Mr. Gummere, the Minister to Morocco, were sent out several weeks ago, and are undoubtedly in the hands of Mr. White now. It is said here that these instructions are general and tentative. As the conference progresses Mr. White will consult with Washington on the various questions of policy which arise, and de-, cisions as to which view, the French or the German, if either, this Government will support will then be decided. It is not the intention of this Government to become involved in the internal affairs of Morocco or in any discussion or agreement with the European Powers who have such great interests at stake. Officers here are deeply interested in the conference, and their hope is that its outcome will assure peace, although the danger that the conclusions may cause a crisis between France and Germany is recognized. As one prominent officer reflected it, the view taken by this Government is that "the direct questions to be discussed are not so

M. Barrere.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN ROME, Jan. 9 .- M. Camille Barrère, the French Ambassador here, in the course of a conversation with an Italian diplomat to-day, said that, besides Italy's support at the coming Moroccan conference, the French Government counts on America's. This statement has given rise to a report that Ambassador Henry White, who is to be the senior diplomatic representative of the United States at Algeciras, has communicated to M. Barrère the instructions which he has received from Washington.

Big Mardia Contracts Awarded. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

MANILA, Jan. 9 .- The contract for building the new water system, which will cost $1,000,000, was to-day awarded in equal parts to Matson, Lord, Berser & Co. and the Atlantic Gulf and Pacific Company. There were six competitors and the bidding was very close.

French Chamber Reelects Doumer. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

Paris, Jan. 9.—Paul Doumer, President of the Chamber of Deputies, was reelected to-day by a vote of 287 to one of 269 cast for Jean Sarrien, Deputy from Saone and

The Cheapest of the Best

A subscriber tells us that for a long time he thought McClure's Magazine "the best of the cheapest periodicals."

Now he writes that he is positive that it is " the cheapest of the best." Begin now - with "the cheapest of the best." All news stands, 10c; $1 a year McClure's Magazine 44 60 East 28d Street. NEW YORK.

SUICIDE THEORY SUPPORTED.

SAY FINANCIAL TROUBLE DROVE EDWARDS TO DEATH.

Needed the Money Coming to His Wife From Hiller Estate and Made Several Ineffectual Efforts to Get It-Coroner Tells of Finding Pistol and Polson Bottle.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 9 .- Officials investigating the death of Charles A. Edwards are more fully convinced than ever that Edwards died by his own hand.

They believe they have discovered motive for Edwards's suicide, although the relatives and friends of Edwards and the public still think Edwards was murdered. To bear out the Coroner's theory that it was a case of suicide, because of financial difficulties, it has been learned that very recently Edwards made several ineffectual attempts to get a portion of his wife's share from the estate of Mrs. Abigail Hiller, his mother-in-law, who died last November. There are those who hold the view that Edwards planned his ending so as to create the belief that he had been killed by some one who had blocked his plans to secure a part of Mrs. Hiller's property. When Edwards's death was first mentioned to Allan Maxcy Hiller, his brotherin-law, Hiller said if the authorities wanted to find a motive for Edwards's death they should investigate his financial affairs.

According to the Coroner, the first sign to support the suicide theory was discovered on Saturday. Detective Donnelly turned over some leaves in the yard and unearthed a whiskey flask labeled rock and rye. He and that it contained a small quantity of the rear door to the upstairs chamber.

On Sunday Detective Owen Daley began a thorough search of the stairways leading from Edwards's chamber to the basement. On the stairway with a high power electric light Detective Daley found blood stains that led almost all the way from the rear door to the upstairs chamber.

With this evidence in favor of the suicide theory Coroner Mix and the detective started a new search for the pistol.
The detectives, with a rake, went carefully over the rear lot and finally came upon the pistol, the handle sticking out of the ground. It looked as though it had been thrown and had struck the soft earth. been thrown and had struck the soft earth muzzle forward, almost burying itself. Two of the chambers were empty and the calibre was the same as that of the bullet in Edwards's head.

Then a hole in the back door was examined, and it just fitted a bullet from the pistol, showing that the first shot had gone through the jamb of the door. Coroner Mix and those aiding him were then pretty well satisfied that Edwards had shot himself.

No Bodies Recovered-Diggers Work in Charcoal Pit - Relief Measures.

None of the bodies of those killed in the landslide at Haverstraw was recovered vesterday, but information obtained by William P. Foss, the Mayor, showed absolutely that eighteen known dead are buried under the fallen earth. The bodies of at least three more laborers whose names are unknown will be found, it is believed, if ever the bodies are unearthed.

Mayor Foss, who is well known as an amateur billiard player, has exerted every energy in getting at work on the huge pile of earth, but actual digging was impossible until late yesterday afternoon. Until that time the firemen were unable to extinguish flames that kept spouting up again and again from the half buried houses. Even when the work began the workmen found it like digging into a char-by the imminent danger of a landslide at the corner of Rockland and Division streets The streets form a right angle and about The streets form a right angle and about one hundred feet from the apex of the angle a wide crevice had opened in the ground. At 5.30 o'clock a portion of the bluff further along on Rockland street gave way, carry-used for storage purposes.

Of the ten dwelling houses which fell only one can be seen. The others are covered by no one knows how many cubic yards of dirt. Measures have been taken for the relief of destitute survivors by the king's Daughters and school children. Last night at the Mayor's instigation a mass meeting was held in the opera house. Addresses were made by the Mayor and other prominent citizens and funds subother prominent citizens and funds sub-

District Attorney Thomas Gagan began an investigation of the accident with a view, he said, of instituting criminal proceedings if he fount any of the brickyard people liable. Yards in close proximity to the cave-in are owned by the Excelsior Brick Company, the Gillies estate and Eckerson important as whether there is a 'casus belli' lurking in the coming nogotiations."

FRANCE EXPECTS OUR SUPPORT.

Relies on American Aid at Algeeiras, Says

Company, the Gillies estate and Eckerson Bros. Legal disputes among them have complicated the actions brought against them by property owners on the heights above the yards. A few houses belonged to the brickyard people. Tenants in these were notified to vacate on the afternoon proceeding the slide.

There were children in nearly all the ouses that fell, but only one child was lost. The parents in many cases took the children a place of safety and then went back for ersonal belongings. Following are the known dead:

Moloch Abbin, rabbi of local synagogue;
Joseph Albert, Mrs. Americus, Michael
Barry, William Coyne, Mrs. William Coyne, Mrs. Joseph Daly, Abraham Diax, Michael Heffer, William Hughes, Lawrence Mannion,
Mrs. Lawrence Mannion, Bartley McGovern,
Henry Neison, Benjamin Nelson, William
Prowick, John McMurray, Mrs. Abraham Silverman and Abraham Silverman, son of Mrs. Silverman.

Comes

a Time Then quit Coffee and drink

POSTUM The rebound to health will point

"THE ROAD TO WELLVILLE"

REVOLT IN HOUSE COLLEGE

THE PHILIPPINE AND STATE-HOOD BILLS THREATENED.

Ex-Speaker Kelfer Joins Insurgents and Will Speak Against the Tariff Measure To-day-Opponents Menopelized Vesterday's Session - Amendments Planned

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 .- Insurgent forces continue to harass the Republican leaders of the House, although the latter declare that it is nothing more than guerrilla warfare. The fact remains, however, that the leaders are facing the most serious revolt which they have had upon their hands since the party returned to power. The efforts of Speaker Cannon and his assistants to bring the recalcitrants into line continued to-day with unabated energy, and although they are not assured of suc-cess on the Statehood bill, the situation is much brighter for them on the Philippines tariff bill.

On the other hand, the insurgents are rejoicing to-night over the accession to their ranks of ex-Speaker Keifer of Ohio. Tomorrow he will take the floor and speak against the tariff bill. He is expected to follow Representative Dalzell.

The rebels are relying much upon the effect of his speech, yet they are uncertain whether he will follow them and vote against the rule on the Statehood bill. They are also asserting that from twelve to fifteen Republicans from Mr. Dalzell's own State of Pennsylvania will vote against the leaders. They are practically all of what is known in insurgent parlance as "tobacco men." Representative Cassell and Representative Mahon, both of Pennsylvania, voiced the sentiment of these members to-day.

The beet sugar insurgents have defined The beet sugar insurgents have defined their plan to be, first, to offer an amendment to fix the duty on Philippine sugar and tobacco at 50 per cent. of the present duties, instead of 25 per cent., as provided in the Payne bill. Failing in that, as they will do, for they can rely only upon scattering Democratic votes, they will offer an amendment to remove the differential on refined sugar—the same amendment which Represugar—the same amendment which Repre-sentative Page Morris offered to the Cuban Reciprocity bill.

Reciprocity bill.

Every Democrat will vote with them on this proposition. Should this amendment fail their last card will be an amendment declaring the intention of the United States to grant independence to the islands on April 11, 1909, the date of the expiration of the ten years clause in the Treaty of Paris. This amendment will draw some sup-port from the Republican side which will be cast for no other amendment. Should all of these amendments fail the bill will pass with only slight opposition. Seven Texas Democrats, three or four from Louisiana, and the three from Florida will vote with and the three from Florida will vote with the insurgents against the bill.

The insertion of one word in the State-hood bill would remove practically all op-position to the Hamilton measure, and it is because the leaders refuse to insert it that position to the Hamilton measure, and it is because the Jeaders refuse to insert it that all the division comes. If they will add "each," thereby giving Arizona and New Mexico the right to vote separately on the question of whether they want to be joined together as States, the bill could be reported and passed in an hour.

This would accomplish the purpose for This would accomplish the purpose for which the insurgents are striving, for it is well known that both Territories are opposed to being joined together. Delegate Andrews (Rep., N. M.) in addressing the committee to-day stated that five out of every seven Mexicans in the Territory of New Mexico were opposed to being joined with Arizona for the reason that they feared a union of the white people of both Territories against them in case of joint Statehood. joint Statehood.

Joint Statehood.

A meeting of insurgents was held this afternoon in Representative Babcock's room, and it was declared that there was no material break in their ranks. On the other hand the leaders assert that Speaker Cannon has succeeded in inducing a sufficient number of the rebels to come back on the reservation, and that the State-hood bill will be safe when it comes before

Massachusetts came again to the front in ernment had been encroaching upon the rights of Congress, said Mr. Spooner. The resolution of Mr. Bacon was clearly an ina Republican of that State, joined his col-league. Mr. Lawrence, in preferring the request of their people for tariff revision. He, however, proved to be but a luke warm advocate, stating that for himself he purposed to act in harmony with the majorit of his party.

Aside from Mr. Gillett, the other speakers Aside from Mr. Gillett, the other speakers of the day—Messrs. Bonynge (Rep., Cel.), Burgess (Dem., Tex.), Cassell (Rep., Pa.), Henry (Rep., Conn.) and Goulden (Dem., N. Y.)—opposed the bill. Mr. Burgess's opposition was constitutional; that of the others was practical, based on the assumption that the bill, would injuriously affect. tion that the bill would injuriously affect the sugar and tobacco interests of the United States.

The end of the debate is not yet in sight Ine end of the decate is not yet in sight.
Mr. Dalzell (Rep., Pa.) is billed to speak to-morrow and Gen. Grosvenor (Rep., Ohio) the day after, in support of the bill.
It was said to-day that Gen. Keifer (Rep., Ohio), ex-Speaker in the Forty-seventh Congress, will follow Dalzell in opposition.

STANLEY B. TYLER DEAD.

Relative of Former President-Fall in Turkish Bath Proved Fatal.

Stanley B. Tyler of Greenwich, Conn. for twelve years the chief accountant of the auditing department of the Mutual Life Insurance Company at 32 Nassau street, died yesterday morning in Roosevelt Hospital from a fracture of the skull. He was 63 years of age.

Mr. Tyler, who was born in Virginia, claimed relationship with President Tyler. claimed relationship with President Tyler. While still a young man he cafne to New York, and went into business as a cotton broker. In 1888 he entered the auditing department of the Mutual Life. He rose rapidly until in 1893 he was made chief accountant of the department.

On the night of December 30, tired out by the unusual severity of the work at the by the unusual severity of the work at that time of year, Mr. Tyler went to the Murray Hill Baths. In his exhausted condition he fell down stairs, sustaining a fracture of the skull. Removed to Roosevelt Hespi-tal, he seemed to be recovering, but sud-denly took a turn for the worse and died yesterday morning.

During his illness his wife and children were in constant attendance. The body was taken to Greenwich, Conn., where the funeral will take place.

Oblivary Notes.

Mrs. Rachel B. Taylor died at her home, 848 Park place, Brooklyn, on Monday. She was born in New York city in 1838. She was brominently identified with women's work in the Baptist Church, and for twenty-five years was president of the Long Island branch of the Women's Baptist Home Missionary Society, and was also president of the Brooklyn Training School and Home for Young Girls. She is survived by three sons and three daughters.

and three daughters.

Charles William Iden of Iden & Co., manufacturers of gas and electric fixtures at Ninth street and University place, died at his residence, 244 West Seventy-first street, yesterday. He was born in this city in 1855 and at the age of 15 joined his father, Henry Iden, in the business to which Iden & Co. succeeded on the father's death. His wife survives.

Brother Andrew, O. S. F., died at the brothers' home in Butler street, Brooklyn, yesterday, aged 63 years. He joined the brotherbood thirty-seven years ago, since which time he was engaged in teaching in the various schools under the management of the Franciscan Brothers.

Mrs. Martha J. Taylor Campbell, the widow

Mrs. Martha J. Taylor Campbell, the widow of Ira Campbell, died yesterday at the home of her stepdaughter, Mrs. Heber Dodwell of 68 Hillyer street, Orange. She was 77 years Manhattan Life's Annual Statement.

The fifty-fifth annual statement of the Manhattan Life Insurance Company, just published, is interesting at this time.

Against this company the Armstrong committee found no record of syndicate transactions, Vall Street affiliations or political or legislative contributions. The statement shows a considerable increase in assets.

$22, $20, $18, $17 Suits and Overcoats

We've found all the recruits for this sale in the top ranks of our suits and overcoats-those that sold at $22. $20, $18 and $17.

Choose now at $13.75.

The garments affected are fashioned in

WM. VOGEL & SON.

OLD CROW RYE

Never Sold in Bulk. The Highest Quality

RYE WHISKEY.

BY A DIRECT SECRET VOTE. Proposed Thus to Nominate Candidates in the Johnston Building, Nevins street and Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn, last night with Chairman Fawcett presiding. The only business transacted was the reading of the preliminary report of the committee of twenty-one appointed a month ago to consider the suggestions made by Mr. Woodruff at that time concerning ballot in Behalf of Mrs. Tolla. Countess Frances R. di Massiglia, the wife of the Italian Consul-General in New York, went to Trenton yesterday to inter-cede for the life of Antoinette Tolla, under sentence to be hanged in Hackensack on

VOLD CROW

A special session of the Court of Pardons is to be held to-day.

Page to Succeed Strasbourger as Leader. A meeting of the Republican organiza-A meeting of the Republican organiza-tion of the Thirty-fourth Assembly dis-trict will be held on Friday or Saturday night to elect a leader to succeed Tax Com-missioner Samuel S. Strasbourger, who resigned last week. James C. Meyers, the leader of the Republican majority in the Board of Aldermen, said last night that Senator Alfred R. Page would undoubtedly ### be chosen.

Movements of Naval Vessels. WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 .- The monitor Nevada has arrived at Charleston, the battleships Maine, Kearsarge, Alabama and Illi-nois and the gunboat Yankton at Hampton Roads, the gunboat Newport at San Pedro de Macoris, the cruiser Cleveland at San Juan and the gunboat Princeton at San

Cailoring Sale without an equal. The Stock of comprising thousands of vards of the most exclusive cloths

25% 10 331/3%

New Broadway Branch 1161-1163-1165, Cor. 27th St.

The largest, linest and most 119 & 121 Dassau St.

the new models of all the modish materials.

H, B. KIRK & CO., New York.

Distillery, FRANKFORT, Ky.

The Republican county committee met reform, direct nominations and a return to reform, direct nominations and a return to the old election district system.

The committee recommended that the county committee, acting under Section 12 of the primary law, provide that at the next primary election every Republican candidate for office within the county of Kings be selected by a direct secret vote of the enrolled Republicans. The com-mittee the recommended that in the future mittee also recommended that in the future the county committee consist of one dele-gate elected from each Election district and one delegate at large in each Assembly district, to be elected by a plurality vote, and that the delegate at large be the executive member of the Assembly district. The dues of the delegates to the county committee should not exceed $10. At present the dues are $25.

The committee also considered the question of ballot reform and of acts to prevent corrupt practices at elections, and the introduction of ballot machines, but the three latter questions are to be more fully considered before a report is made.

Upon motion of Commissioner of Jurors Brenner the report was received. It is to be printed and forwarded to every delegate, and will be fully discussed and acted upon at the February meeting. The committee then adjourned.

COUNTESS TO INTERCEDE. Wife of Counsul-General Goes to Trenton

Diego.

The monitor Florida has sailed from Jacksonville for Port Royal, the despatch boat Dolphin from Lynnhaven Bay for Washington the tug Rocket from Norfolk for Washington and the torpedo boats Porter, Dupont, Nicholson, Blakely and Rodgers from Savannah for Brunswick.

Burnham & Phillips imported, has been reduced to make room for heavy shipments to arrive for the opening of our

Do not Miss Chis

exclusive stock at the ordinary prices paid for ready made

Houston St.

JULIA MARLOWE'S STEPFATHER. John Frost, Said to Be a Relative of the Actress, Dies Here.

The funeral of a man named John Frost was held yesterday from the undertaking rooms of John J. Moloney, 402 East Twentysixth street. It was said after the funeral that Frost was the father of Julia Marlowe and that the actress's manager had arranged for the funeral. Miss Marlowe married in 1894 under the name of Sarah Frances Frost.

Her maiden name when she came from

Her maiden name when she came from England as a young girl was Fanny Brough. It is thought that Frost was her stepfather. Miss Marlowe was playing last night at the Montauk Theatre in Brooklyn, but neither she nor her manager would say anything about Frost or the funeral. Frost died in this city last Friday. Only two persons, both men, attended the funeral. The body was buried in Evergreens Cemetery. body was buried in Evergreens Cemetery.

Army and Navy Orders.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 .- These army orders have been issued:

Lieut. Col. Thaddeus W. Jones, Seventh Cavalry, to Inspector-General's Department, vice Lieut. Col. Frank West. Inspector-General, who is relieved and assigned to Seventh Cavalry.
Capt. Frank H. Lawton, Commissary, from General Hospital, Hot Springs, Ark., to his station. First Lieut. James M. Loud, Twenty-eighth Infantry, from General Hospital, Washington Barracks, to his station.
Major Hugh J. Gallagher, Commissary, from duty with istimian Canal Commission, to Philippine Islands.

This navy order has been issued: Capt. E. J. Dorn. retired, from naval station, New Orleans, to home. Try a brisk walk in the open to cap the climax, and see how much more sunshine will come into your life.

BOHN'S LAXATIVES

Cure headache, constipation, dizziness, dyspepsia. Give new life to old livers. Never disturb digestion. At Druggists' or wholesale by Crittenton.

DE WITT-KINSEY .- On Monday, Jan. 8, 1906. at West Union, Iowa, Eleanor Vaughan Kinsey daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kinsey, to Clarence De Witt. SHEPARD-LOWE.-On Wednesday, Jan. 10, at Grace Church, Plainfield, N. J., by the Rev. Dr. Townsend of All Angels' Church, N. V., assisted by the Rev. Mr. Stevenson of Grace

MARRIED.

Church, Charlotte Frances, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ebbets Lowe, to Frederick Mead Shepard.

DIED. BIRNIE.-At Elizabeth, N. J., Monday, Jan. & 1906, William Birnie, aged 67 years 10 month Funeral services at his late residence. 210

Jersey st., on Wednesday, Jan. 10, at 2 P. M.

COX .- On Tuesday, Jan. 9, Grace Cox, beloved wife of Wallace M. Cox, in her 28th year Services to be held at her late residence, 21 East 180th st., on Thursday, Jan. 11, at 8:30 P. M. HOMER .- In New York city, on Saturday evening. Jan. 6th. 1906, Anna Maria Homer, in her 80th of Boston, Mass.

Funeral services at Mount Auburn Chapel. For ton, Mass., on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. IDEN .- At his residence, No. 244 West 71st st. Jan. 9, 1905. Charles W. Iden, beloved husband of Dora W. Iden, age 50 years. Funeral services will be held at the Evangelical

Lutheran Church, corner 65th st. and Centi-

Park West, on Friday, Jan. 12, at 1 o'clock. in year, beloved wife of the late George Home

terment at Greenwood. JACKMAN.—At Poughke-pate, N. Y., on Sunday Jan. 7, Emily Stockton, wife of Edgar R. Jack-man, and daughter of the late Richard Stockton, of Princeton, N. J.
Funeral from Christ Church, Poughkeepsle N. Y., on Wednesday, Jan. 10, at 2 P. M. Inter

POWNSEND -On Monday, Jan. 8, 1906, Louise Wright, wife of Charles J. Townsend of Look port, N. Y., formerly of New York city WHITE -Of pneumonia, at Brongy life, N. Y. Jan

ment private.

8, 1906, Margaret Hill, daughter of William Cravath and Maud Parmelee White, aged 18 months. Funeral services at Church of St. James the Less.

Scarsdale, N. Y., Wednesday, Jan. 10, at 4